WALL STREET PLAYS THROUGH NOON HOUR

Traffic Halts While Clerks Stroll and Gossip.

New York.—Money is king in Wall street, but the people there are far from being the pawns in the continual game which popular conjecture pictures them. They are very human, apparently more so in their hour of relaxation than members of other business groups.

Noon is akin to the proverbial Saturday night in a small town, with only the slight differences caused by custom and environment.

The streets are only canyons between walls of memory, but then the sunlight shines straight down into the voids and its brightness is reflected on the crowds. There are no bustling shoppers here, no persons rushing to appointments or the hurly-burly of business hours. Noon is a time to relax.

All traffic except that essential to the district is diverted at that hour and curbstone boundaries are forgotten.

Walk in Middle of Streets.

Then the statue of Washington looks down on Nassau street, one of the few wide ones, where girls in fours, groups of youths, or here and there a lad and the "girl friend," promenade. Lunch is brief and they saunter about in the middle of the street until the clock strikes one.

It is the same on Wall street itself —which is hardly more than a narrow alley—or on New street, which a wide truck would fill from curb to curb.

There is a sociability about it all, and an excavation for a new building is sufficient attraction for as many persons as can crowd around the guard rail.

Patrolling the streets during this time are the bankers who reap their fortunes in nickels and dimes—newspapers, combs, novelties—anything that strikes the fancy.

The scene is entirely at variance with the activity of the street which makes a million dollars only small change.

Money is a commodity here, and all realize the futility of excessive display, except for the standard "prosperous looking" clothes which are affected both by bank presidents and $30-a-week clerks.

The president and clerk eat side by side in the same lunchrooms, particularly those where you wait on yourself and then figure your own bill.

This action of the banker, however, may be construed as carefulness, as even small sums now are guarded closely. This practice was evolved only recently after a series of holdups.

Take Precaution.

The same boylah looking messengers still carry the little black bags, but the bags are fastened to wrists by handcuffs and chains, making it virtually impossible for them to be snatched away. The kidnaping of the messenger is preceded by the presence of two or three armed guards walking behind him with weapons in hand in coat pockets, while the guards try to look as little like detectives as possible.

This quiet protection marks the street, for about the only visible policemen are traffic officers. For the rest, there is an abundance of plain clothes men and private guards in every establishment.

Snakes Kill 19,308 in British India in Year

London.—Snakes were responsible for the deaths of 19,308 people out of 21,841 who were killed by wild animals in British India during 1925.

According to annual returns the number of deaths attributed to accidents by wild beasts is 1,974, of which 975 are accounted for by tigers and the rest by wolves, bears, leopards, elephants, wild pigs, crocodiles and hyenas.

The number of snakes destroyed totaled 41,004 and wild animals, 21,066, the latter including 4,660 leopards and 1,600 tigers.

Ananias Unknown as Liar in Home Land

Damascus.—Every American who comes to Damascus is told: "Don't fail to visit the house of Ananias."

One feels that he cannot leave Damascus without calling on the patron of prevaricators.

He occupied a fine house, as houses in Damascus go, and must have been a prosperous old gentleman.

"Did he have any other profession besides that of a liar?" a guide was asked.

"Lawyer! He was not a lawyer; there were no lawyers in those days," the guide who learned his English in England replied reprovingly.

"Liar!" was the emphatically repeated query.

"Aoh! a fibber, yes mean," came back the Anglo-Syrian with a look of intense surprise. "Why, this man is not known because he was a liar, but he is the man who converted Saint Paul."

They never have heard of Ananias, the liar, in this part of the world.

BUS LINES AND RAILROADS CUT RATES FOR STATE FAIR

RICHMOND. — All transportation lines have announced special reduced rates to visitors to the twenty-first annual Virginia State Fair, which opens here on Monday, October 4. The auto bus lines entering Richmond from Charlottesville, Norfolk, Newport News, Farmville, Scottsville, Fernciff, Mineral, West Point, Urbanna and Petersburg will sell round-trip tickets at the rate of fare-and-one-half throughout the week, as will also the following railroads: Southern, Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line. Special one-day excursions will also be run by some of the railroads from various points.

The Fair will run the entire week of October 4, and a record-breaking attendance is expected.

STATE FAIR TO HAVE BIG JUNIOR DEPARTMENT

RICHMOND.—So big has the Boys' and Girls' Club Department of the Virginia State Fair become that it will virtually be a Fair in itself this year. Over $8,000.00 in prizes are offered, including three university scholarships. Two are offered by the Fair Association—one for the best dairy calf, the other for the best specimen of baby beef from the butcher's standpoint. Another scholarship of $100.00 is offered by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for the best record made by a boy or girl club member from the Virginia territory served by its lines.

The twenty-first annual State Fair opens Monday, October 4, and continues through the week. Reduced rates will be offered by all railroads and bus lines entering Richmond.

BIG POULTRY AND PET STOCK SHOWS AT STATE FAIR

RICHMOND.—A remodeled and enlarged building is being provided for the Poultry Show of the 1926 Virginia State Fair, which promises to outstrip all previous exhibitions in this part of the country. Over 5,000 birds were in the 1925 show and this number will be greatly increased this fall by the addition of new classes. Every species of chicken, turkey, guinea, water fowl and pigeons is to be represented in an exhibition that will be of the utmost interest and value to all who raise fowls, whether for pleasure or profit. Handsome premiums are offered.

And if you have a coon dog, or a pet "tabby," don't fail to take in the dog and cat shows! The dog exhibit last year was, in every sense of the word a "howling" success, with every known breed represented. The show is under the auspices of the American Kennel Club.

The Cat Show was an innovation in 1925, and the enthusiastic welcome given it by the thousands of visitors justifies its continuance this year on an enlarged scale.

The State Fair opens Monday, October 4, and runs through the week. Railroads and bus lines will offer reduced fares for the occasion.

WONDERFUL FIREWORKS DISPLAY AT STATE FAIR

RICHMOND.—A magnificent display of fireworks has been contracted for as a feature of the twenty-first annual Virginia State Fair which opens here on Monday, October 4, and continues through the week. For years the Virginia Fair has been noted for its fireworks, which have not been surpassed by any fair in the country. This year the management has arranged for an especially elaborate program, including the newest and most startling inventions in set pieces, aerial effects and novelties. The fireworks will be shown at the close of the grandstand performance on each of the six nights of the Fair. Railroad and bus lines will offer reduced rates throughout Fair Week.

NEW FARM IMPLEMENTS AT STATE FAIR

RICHMOND.—A mammoth display of the newest developments in tractors and farm machinery will be seen at the 1926 State Fair, which opens October 4. The most important implements will be regresented and many of the exhibits will be in operation continuously, providing a practical demonstration of what the machines will do. The Fair will run the entire week, through October 9.

STATE FAIR ANNOUNCES SIX-DAY PROGRAM

RICHMOND.—The daily program of the Virginia State Fair to be held the week of October 4, is announced as follows: Monday, October 4, "Children's Day"; Tuesday, October 5, "Virginia Day"; Wednesday, October 6, "Richmond Day"; Thursday, October 7, "Farmers' Day"; Friday, October 8, "Home-Coming Day"; Saturday, October 9, "Everybody's Day." Children will be admitted without charge on Monday and the public schools will close half a day. Wednesday will be a general holiday here in honor of Richmond Day."

ISRAEL JOURNEYING TOWARD CANAAN

LESSON TEXT—Numbers 10:11-13, 29-32; 11:4-6, 10-15, 31-33; 12:1-3, 13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come thou with us, and we will do thee good.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Journey to Long Ago.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Journeying in the Wilderness.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Israel Journeying Toward Canaan.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Why God Guides His People.

Israel remained almost one year at Sinai. It was a veritable schooling for them. Their stay was necessary:

I. To allow them to recuperate from the effects of many years of slavery.

2. To train them mentally and spiritually for the great work before them. The wonderful transactions at Sinai served to inspire them with courage and hope, for through them they came to know God as their king and themselves as His covenant people.

3. To have them thoroughly organized.

This was not only necessary for the march, but for the warfare in gaining possession of the land of Canaan.

I. Marching From Sinai at the Word of Moses (vv. 11-28).

The nation had now grown to a great host—the army itself of 603,550 strong! Allowing three persons to every soldier, there would be 1,810,650. The army was organized into four great sections or divisions with three tribes to each division. The Levites were organized on the basis of the three sons of Aaron—Gershon, Kohath and Merari. The Kohathites had the principal place among the Levitical service—charge of the most precious things. The Gershonites handled only second place honor, while the Merarites fell upon the humblest.

1. The signal given (v. 11).

The lifting of the cloud from off the sanctuary was the signal for the camp to be broken and the march to begin.

2. The signal obeyed (vv. 12).

Just as the day to march must be recognized, so the order to wait must be obeyed.

3. The Commander (vv. 13).

God was the commander through His servant, Moses.

4. The journeying of the march (vv. 14-28).

As they journeyed, Judah led the way. Judah was followed by Gershon and Merari bearing the coarser part of the tabernacle. They marched Reuben's division, followed by the Kohathites bearing the sacred utensils of the tabernacle. These were followed by the division of Ephraim and Dan. The ark occupied a central position with the moving caravan.

II. Moses Seeking the Help of Hobab (vv. 29-32).

Hobab was a shrewd child of the desert. Moses thought therefore that his knowledge thereof would be helpful. The children of Israel were going forth under the guiding care of the Almighty. Surely He could be trusted. Certainly He knew that deceitful wilderness.

1. "We will do thee good."

Moses had faith in God's promises to Israel and could well assure Hobab that good would come to him by helping Israel himself with God's covenant people.

2. "Thou mayest be to us instead of eyes."

Moses still insisted that Hobab should go along, not only for the good he could get but for the good he might do.

III. Marching to Canaan With the Lord as Leader (vv. 33-36).

Even though Hobab did go with Israel, we never hear of his leading the people. The Lord will not have it so. Observe:

1. "The ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them" (v. 33).

The ark, the symbol of the divine presence, moved out of its place in the midst of the camp and took its place at the head.

2. The cloud of the Lord rested upon them (v. 36).

This was an indication that God was not only leading, but governing His people and protecting them.

3. The Lord's watchcare (vv. 35, 36).

Moses' unbelief caused a reproach unto the Lord. This action on the part of God vindicated His leadership. Moses gave recognition to this fact of God in identifying himself with His people. When the ark rested, and yet forward, he exclaimed, "Rise up, Lord, and let thine enemies be scattered and let them that hate Thee flee before Thee," and when it rested—"Return, O Lord, unto the many thousands of Israel."

God's Love

We are taught to think that God's love is the biggest thing in the universe. Let us think of some of the biggest things we know, and then we will say, "Oh, it is more than that is bigger than all."—R. Jowett.

Happiness Counts Most

The will of God respecting us is that we shall live by each other's happiness and not by each other's misery . . . that each shall labor by their joy, not by their sorrow.

VERA

The county fair is less than three weeks off; are you ready for it?

The white schools are all open in running order. Mrs. J. W. Carter, has the Wildway to Liberty Chapel school wagon again this year—Thornton Carter has the one from Wildway to Vera.

Julian Grow, who has been working in Lynchburg all summer, is back home.

Mrs. Grow, of Roanoke, is visiting her home people.

Messrs. Jeff Kinney and R. A. Stefiana who went through the terrible storm at Miami, Fla., and escaped unharmed, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kinney, for a few days, while conditions are improving in that water-soaked country—they left the drilling incidents of what occured during those twelve long hours of howling wind and driving rain.

Miss Lucie and Olvia Booker, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Booker, at Tower Hill, have returned to Richmond.

George Booker, of Tower Hill, is attending school at Pamplin.

Mr. John Beale, who was carried to a Lynchburg hospital, was brought back last week. We are sorry to learn Mr. Beale is not improving as his friends would wish.

Miss Lou Ferguson, who has been an invalid for more than a year had a "bad spell" Saturday but is better at this writing.

Mr. John Everette Childers, who has been suffering from an infected hand is improving right along, now, we are glad to report.

Mrs. Jerome Menefee left for Richmond Saturday, to spend the winter with her son, J. T. Menefee and family.

Miss Christine Garrett is attending school at Harrisonburg.

Messrs. Watkins and George Abbitt have gone to Richmond to attend college, and Miss Dora Abbitt is attending A. A. H. S. at Appomattox

Mrs. Mayne, who has visiting relatives here, left for Washington last week.

The farmers are busy cutting and housing tobacco—they are anticipating a visit from Jack Frost in the near future.

Sir Leon Levison, president of the International Christian Hebrew Alliance, in a speech in Hungary, there are at least forty thousand Jews, who believe in Christ; in Poland, thirty-five thousand; while in Norway, Denmark and Sweeden, fully four-fifths of the entire Jewish population believe in Him.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin, Prime Minister of Britain, said recently:—"Many forces of good and of evil were loosed in 1914, forces that were not bound at the time of the Armistice; and there is a strange leaven at work, today, among all the nations of the world." The Gentile Times ended in 1914. Mr. Baldwin is beginning to see some of the signs of the new dispensation; Christ's kindom now being ushered in.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Booker announce the marriage of their daughter, Marie Susie to Mr. William Dinguid Christian, on Saturday, September 25th, at Washington, D. C. These young people were born and raised in this neighborhood and have a host of friends who wish them God Speed, blessings and happiness through life. They will be at home at 30 Ridgeway Terrace, Cumberland, Md.

Stapleton

There has been quite a change in the weather here since Saturday.

Mrs. Chas. Grow and daughter, Florence, spent Friday night and Sat. with Mrs. H. O. and T. M. Martin.

We are very sorry to state that Mr. Tom Moore is still ill.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. A. F. Drinkard on Thursday after 1st Sunday, Sept. 7, 1926. All members requested to be present.

HIXBURG

Mrs. O. C. Jenkins and daughter, Mrs. Gladys Scott, with her two little sons, of Bluefield, are on a visit to Mrs. Ella Swan and other relatives in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Coleman of the Farmer's Lime Mari Co., Riverside, Va., spent the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCoe and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hix.

Misses Carrie Hix and Miss Emmn Earle, of Richmond, spent week-end with Miss Maggie Hix.

The report of snow several inches deep with a fall of temparature to 6 degrees below zero in Montanna and all crops frozen is causing our farmers with lots of tobacco out to hustle it in.

Mr. O. C. Jenkins, of Bluefield, was called by wire to the sick bed side of his family while on a visit here, however we are glad to report they all had a speedy recovery.

The tobacco crops are being cured and are pronounced by the farmer to be the best they have raised for many years.

Wyley Mosley a tenant on Mr. W. C. Chick's farm had the misfortune to loose about 2400 sticks of his best tobacco last week by fire and also an automobile, though Mr. Chick was greater looser this being a large sheded barn worth from 6 to 7 thousand dollars.

Mr. Edwin Pore is building a new barn the come out of his crop was so much that he has not housing room enough.

Mr. H. B. Swan, of Bluefield, spent last Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Ella Swan.

Mrs. Mattie Harwood has returned from Bluefield much improved in health after spending sometime under the care of her doctor.

PAMPLIN

Soon the frost will be on the pumpkin, then comes the pumpkin pie. Just like mother used to make. Oh! boy.

The new cottage being built at the northern end of town for Mr. Jack Moran is nearing completion and he expects to occupy it about the middle of October.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins, accompanied by Miss Clara Hawkins, all of Blacksburg, are spending a week with their aunt, Mrs. T. L. Griffin.

The farmers are busy cutting and housing the tobacco crop, which has turned out better than was expected, both in quality and abundance. Should good prices prevail there will be great rejoicing amoung them.

A little rain would be welcome now as the roads are about as dusty as they can be. Every time a car shoots by a cloud of dust arises and one can scarcely see.

What "dependable" really means
Ponder the basic elements underlying Dodge Brothers remarkable success and one simple fact stands boldly out:
The public not only believe in the goodness of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, they believe in the men who build it and the men who sell it.
That is why the word DEPENDABLE is associated the world over with Dodge Brothers name. It goes beyond the product and enhances every department in Dodge Brothers great organization.
